DETAILED ACTION

1. The reply filed 4 August 2005 has been received and entered. Claims 1-22 are pending.

Response to Amendment

2. Applicant's amendments to claims 10-17 appropriately address the rejection of these claims under 35 U.S.C. §101. Accordingly, this rejection is withdrawn in view of Applicant's amendments.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-22 are allowed.
4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Applicant's arguments filed 4 August 2005 have been fully considered and are persuasive.

It is noted that Applicant has properly distinguished "instruction count" in the claims as explicitly determining the ordered sequence of relaxation instructions (claims 1, 10, 18, and 22). Indeed, this interpretation is consistent with Applicant's intent (see Applicant's remarks, section II.A.). Although the added limitations were placed in the preambles of the cited claims, they provide sufficient distinction in these instances. A preamble is generally not accorded any patentable weight where it merely recites the purpose of a process or the intended use of a structure, and where the body of the claim does not depend on the preamble for completeness but, instead, the process steps or structural limitations are able to stand alone. See In re Hirao, 535 F.2d 67, 190 USPQ 15 (CCPA 1976) and Kropa v. Robie, 187 F.2d 150, 152, 88 USPQ 478,

Art Unit: 2192

481 (CCPA 1951). In the instant claims, however, the bodies of the claims depend on the preamble for completeness, and reading the claims in the absence of the preamble elements would result in lack of antecedent bases for multiple elements.

Claim 19, reciting a linking method, is believed to sufficiently limited to a linker environment, implying that the jump relaxation instruction is executed by the linker, rather than being a part of the resulting executable output from the linker. This interpretation is consistent with Applicant's intent (see Applicant's remarks, section II.B.).

The prior art of record fails to expressly teach or fairly suggest the above-described features in the context of the remaining linking environment features described in claims 1, 10, 18, 19, and 22. Claims 2-9, 11-17, 20, and 21 are likewise considered allowable for at least these reasons.

5. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
